Electronic Resource Associates is a technological leader and national service provider of electronic offender monitoring equipment. We can provide unique program solutions for any customer need.

Our goal is to provide our customers a safe alternative to incarceration and a electronic monitoring product that is reliable, easy-to-use and affordable. With today's economy, the task facing our local and state agencies is more challenging than ever. Jails are overcrowded and understaffed, while operating budgets are being reduced or eliminated entirely. With a limited availability of equipment and shrinking budgets, law enforcement agencies cannot meet the ever-increasing demands of their electronic monitoring needs. Choosing the right supplier is critical. ERA is here to provide an economical and reliable solution to these challenges.

Whether you are ready to try electronic monitoring for the first time, need to expand your present program, or require a new solution for your existing program, ERA is here to help you succeed.
